

BOXING CONTENDERS . . . Sea Eagles Boxing Club members Graham Williams — left — Kenneth Dalton and Ben Cochran ready themselves for this weekend's hectic Suncorp North Queensland Games boxing schedule at Yorkeys Knob. Picture: Dean Lewins

By Laine Clark

Knockout combination

THE Yorkeys Knob-based Sea Eagles Boxing Club looks to have scored a knockout combination in the lead-up to its Suncorp North Queensland Games programme.

Organisers are negotiating to bring Australian and Commonwealth lightweight champion Robert Peden to Cairns for Saturday's competition.

Co-ordinator for the NQ Games' International Australian Boxing Association-affiliated boxing competition Gavan James said he would know today whether the Commonwealth Games gold medalist and possibly Australian Olympic light middleweight Richard Rolls would make a tournament appearance at the Fern Pyne Sports Centre. James said the duo's arrival would provide a knockout combination for the titles which have already attracted a 12-strong Papua New Guinea Olympic boxing training squad which will arrive fresh from an impressive performance at the Oceania Games in Sydney.

"This will be one of the biggest tournaments the club has hosted because of the nature of the event which will have international fighters," he said.

● Continued Page 44